JULY MEETING AT JOURNEY'S END OFFERED SOUTHERN STYLE BUFFET

Long lines at Journey's End in Loganville are the rule more than the exception according to Marsha Byrd, a local. But fortunately our meeting went smoothly with the private room set up by Margaret and Harry Parnell. Unfortunately they could not attend because of health problems with Harry. We all wish a fast re-

Quality was excellent, service was outstanding, and the quantity was more than we needed!

covery for Harry and look forward to seeing him and Margaret at the next meeting at Ft. Yargo, August 14. We enjoyed seeing Jim Masone, a new member, to the club, along with his guest, Glen Donaldson.

Jim Masone, a new member but long-time Studebaker owner, attended the meeting in Loganville, his first in 5 years.

Firefighters Douse Remains of Studebaker Plant

An old Studebaker factory was destroyed last month by a huge fire in an area of Detroit that was once a major hub of the automotive industry in its early years.

The flames could be seen for miles, and it took about 150 firefighters several hours to get the blaze at the warehouse under control. Streets remained closed for several blocks around the site. Continued Page 4 64 Studebaker Beckham Skyview, a prototype never in production.

What's in your garage?

Not this one, I'll bet. It's a prototype of a Studebaker wagon that never was. From the looks of it, I don't think we missed out on anything special.

This was Sunday, but not church, despite what this photo shows. Fleming Smith helps her dad, Don, conduct the meeting.

Our Meetings

All meetings are scheduled for 2 p.m., but most arrive around 1:30 p.m. to visit (chat) and inspect the Studebakers members bring to the meeting. Bring a hat and a camera to get good shots of some of the classics our members drive to meetings.

President's Message:

The first August picnic I attended as a new member of the club was an outdoor facility and the heat was unbearable. Fortunately Billy and Charleen Carey came to the rescue at Ft. Yargo and now we have a nice, cool, indoor facility. Picnics in August are not necessarily a good idea in the South. And, of course, the pot luck style of eating is a great Southern tradition that I think we are moving back to. My mother would always cook for our family reunions, (always outdoor), and when the bell rang to eat, we would all head for our mother's food. But that's not to say we didn't have some great options like my aunt's blackberry cobbler. There were also some outstanding dishes cooked with fatback which isn't considered the most healthy choice today. That type of cooking is rare today, but when I get a chance, I'll go after those dishes every time. It's great to remember these get together, it's sad to miss all the loved ones who are no longer with us.

Fire destroys historic Studebaker building

The Studebaker plant was built in 1906 and was used primarily to manufacture, store and ship service parts. It was used to build EMF cars. The company entered into a distribution agreement with Everett Metzger-Flanders (EMF) Company of Detroit; EMF would manufacture vehicles and the Studebakers would distribute them through their wagon dealers. Problems with EMF made the cars unreliable leading the public to say that EMF stood for "Every Morning Fix-it". Studebaker, unhappy with EMF's poor quality, gained control of the assets and plant facilities in 1910. To remedy the damage done by EMF, Studebaker paid mechanics to visit each unsatisfied owner and replace the defective parts in their vehicles at a cost of $1,000,000 to the company. Studebaker also began putting its name on new automobiles produced at the former EMF facilities, both as an assurance that the vehicles were well built, and as its commitment to making automobile production and sales a success. In 1911 the company reorganized as the Studebaker Corporation.
